

CIVIC COUNCIL WORRIED ABOUT CONDITIONS AT OLD BRICKYARD

Discarded refrigerators which have been taken to a dump at the old brickyard on the western outskirts of the borough are causing concern to members of the Post Office Auxiliary, it was reported at a meeting of the Gettysburg Civic Council Friday night at the YWCA.

Mrs. Charles Bower, who represents the auxiliary on the civic council, said auxiliary members feared that children playing at the brickyard might get into the old refrigerators, and be unable to get out. The doors and latches are left on the abandoned coolers, she said.

Mrs. Bower also said that children are playing with "junked" automobile tires wheeling them around the unfenced quarry pond, which is of considerable depth.

Referred To Town Council
The Civic Council voted to refer the matters to the borough council with a request for action before a tragedy occurs.

Twenty women's organizations were represented at the meeting, at which the president, Mrs. Forrest C. Craver presided. Mrs. Richard Naugle, vice president, served as secretary, due to the illness of Mrs. Elizabeth S. Henning.

The proposed new municipal garbage collection plan was discussed, but no action will be taken until a definite plan is presented, officials of the group said.

Praise For Town Fathers
Mrs. Craver reported that she, Mrs. Henning and Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler attended a recent meeting of the borough council and were pleased with "the efficient and capable manner in which the town's affairs are being handled."

Mrs. Edith Bushman, the group's representative on the Armed Forces Day Committee, reported that councilwomen will be asked to sell raffle tickets in their groups for the luncheon to be held at the Hotel Gettysburg May 16 at 12:30 p.m.

Mrs. Craver reported that she would visit the Adams County Fish and Game Association Auxiliary on April 10. She was unable, she said, to accept an invitation for the March meeting. Mrs. Donald Myers, Adams County Board of Assistance, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the council.

Suit, Blouses "Lost" At Sale

A collector for a rummage sale who mistook articles left in the hallway of an apartment to be picked up by the dry cleaner for articles intended for the rummage sale, cost Miss Mildred Stoner, Wentz Apartments, Baltimore St., the loss of a suit and three blouses Thursday afternoon.

Miss Stoner, whose apartment is on the third floor of the Wentz building, had agreed to give some articles of clothing for the rummage sale. She also had called a dry cleaner to pick up the other articles. She delivered the clothing for the rummage sale in person, and left the suit and three blouses for the cleaner outside her door. Then the rummage sale collector arrived, saw the suit and blouses and took them to the sale. They were sold, and there is no record of the buyers. Miss Stoner hopes, however, that the purchasers will read of her misfortune and return her clothes.

The suit is a purple gabardine with a bell store, York, label. One blouse is green jersey figured in aqua and tan; another of nylon, with sand background and rippled figures in green and purple, and the third of silk, figured in three-inch bars of pink, dark blue and aqua, with water scenes. All the blouses are size 36.

Lots Of Winters Here Were Warmer Than One Just Ended

Now that spring is here, the Gettysburg weatherman delved into local weather statistics on winters of the last 50 years and came up with figures that show that last winter, while mild, was far from setting any records in that direction.

The winter just ended was milder than that of 1951-52 but the folk that say it was the mildest winter within their recollection have short memories. Gettysburg weather records show that the winter of 1949-50 was considerably warmer and seven other winters here in the last half century have been less frigid than the season just ended.

The coldest winter in local annals that go back to the winter of 1903-04 was the winter of 1904-05 when December's average temperature was three degrees below normal; January's average was 5.7 degrees too cold and in February the daily average reading was 8.4 degrees below normal.

Warmest Was 1931-32
Next to the coldest was the memorable winter of 1917-18 when about five feet of snow fell to set an all-time snowfall mark here.

No winter can compare to that of 1931-32 here for high temperatures. Average temperatures in all

"PRINT OF YEAR" IS SELECTED AT ANNUAL DINNER

A picture of a fisherman repairing his nets by Dr. Francis C. Mason won the "print of the year" award Friday evening at the 13th anniversary dinner meeting and ladies' night held by the Gettysburg Photographic Society at Banker's Restaurant.

An unusual photograph by Dr. C. A. Sloat, titled "Magnetic Limb," was placed second by Edward Bafford, Baltimore, speaker and show judge for the evening. He described Sloat's picture as technically perfect but rated the subject as "less interesting" than Mason's picturesque scene.

The third-place award was given to a wharf scene by David E. Garfinkle. Honorable mentions went to five other entries among the approximately 50 photographs made during the last year by members of the society. They were made by Dr. Sloat, who had two in the group, Laverne Dietz, Paul G. Pensinger and Joseph D. Kendlehart.

Twenty-seven members of the society and their guests attended the meeting and heard Mr. Bafford, Baltimore lithographer, photographer and past president of the Baltimore Camera Club, discuss technical phases of exposures and development of pictures. Pointing out that not everyone in photography "has to go in for salon work," he declared: "There's room in photography for hobbies in many specialized fields. If you like the family photo-corner drug store type of photography, keep it up. It's good and serves a real purpose."

Mr. Bafford exhibited many prints of his own that were made in many parts of the country and shown widely in salon displays. The collection included many shots smaller than the 11x14 size used by the local society members for their displays and led to discussion on that point. Mr. Bafford said his pictures have been hung in salons regardless of the size of the print; "If you've got a picture, it looks good in any

Here And There News Collected At Random

One of the important issues before town council and one that should be given wide support is that of municipal collection of garbage and its disposal.

Gettysburg has outgrown the antiquated system of irregular collections now in use and "dumping" in an open area at the outskirts of town, right next to the historic Battleground. Gettysburg is too important a community not to have the finest system we can get . . . and more important, disposing of the garbage in a sanitary way . . . an incinerator.

Don't be misled by the vicious rumors that are being circulated around town that it will cost gobs of money. A reliable Councilman said that the approximate cost will be $9 to $30 per year. Single family homes would pay a trifling amount, while apartment houses, restaurants and hotels would pay a larger fee.

Let's do a decent job with this garbage collection, and let's see to it that the rat-infested garbage dump is eliminated without delay.

Tell your Councilman you favor a municipally-controlled and operated garbage collecting system and that you also favor . . .

SUV SUGGESTS BELL BE GIVEN LOCAL SOCIETY

The Gettysburg Camp of the Sons of Union Veterans will suggest to the Western Maryland Company that the bell which rang in the Gettysburg station when Lincoln came here be turned over to the Adams County Historical Society.

The camp expressed its appreciation to the Western Maryland for its "contribution to patriotism" in presenting the Lincoln pageant here last summer and in placing the Lincoln bell in temporary custody of The Gettysburg Times. At its meeting Friday night in the GAR Post home the camp decided "because we understand that you have not as yet decided what to do with the bell in the future, we suggest the Adams County historical society as the proper custodians for this valuable historical relic."

The motion that the bell be given to the historical society "to be displayed publicly" came after a lengthy discussion on the future of the bell. Suggestions that the chrome plating be removed from the bell and that it be returned to the tower of the railroad station here were discounted because it was

NEW PURGE IN RUSSIA SEEN

"After Stalin — Malenkov" was the title of a discussion presented Thursday evening by Dr. Heinz Langerhans, assistant professor of sociology at Gettysburg College, to members of the school's Sociology Club at their March meeting in the SCA building. This was the seventh in a series of meetings the club is holding to discuss current world topics.

Predicting that Malenkov will stress a peaceful existence — that is a peaceful existence as he defines it, not in the sense of the term as used by any other country or its leaders — and that he does not desire any all-out war which might develop, Dr. Langerhans said that it is to be expected that Communist leaders in countries other than Russia also would voice the same beliefs.

"The announcement in January of the accusation against nine physicians in Moscow of having assassinated Zhukov and other top leaders in 1948 and earlier, it seems to me, is more important than the announcement of Stalin's death." "The 19th party convention of the Russian Communist party, in October, 1952, had already beatified Stalin — as if no longer among the living — and Malenkov had read in his place the report of the Presidium. There is no doubt that the convention had the purpose of announcing the decision regarding Stalin's successor and of

LAUD MICHAUX FIRE WARDENS FOR GOOD WORK

More than 100 fire wardens of the Michaux District were praised Friday night for their excellent work in connection with the past year's work by Dr. Horace Roland, chief of the Division of Protection of the state Department of Forests and Waters.

Dr. Roland spoke at the annual dinner of the wardens held at Graefenberg Inn. Another featured speaker was Thomas Norris, for many years district forester, who was promoted recently to chief of the Division of Nurseries of the state department of forests and waters. Norris had served as district forester by his assistant for many years, R. L. Dolton. Dolton served as toastmaster for Friday's dinner program.

Dolton reported that a number of improvements are being conducted in the Michaux area at the present time including additional parking areas, children's play areas and toilet facilities. Parking sections for about 800 more cars are being constructed at Fuller Lake, for about 600 more cars at Laurel Lake, approximately 100 more cars at Caledonia and about 50 cars at Mont Alto.

Certificates For Wardens

A number of wardens were presented with certificates for from ten to thirty years service. Only one, Elmer Thomas, with 15 years of service was an Adams County man. The remainder were from York County and included Daniel Bohn, 30 years; Elmer McClain, 25 years; A. D. Prock, 10 years; Daniel Yengst, 15 years; Iradell Vaught, 15 years; Jacob Epley, 15 years; Frank Sootin, 10 years; Hudson Ward, 20 years and Earl B. Snyder, 20 years.

Gettysburg's newest civic organization, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was chartered "for service to the community" and "in training for leadership" and its first officers installed at a charter night dinner Friday night at the Hotel Gettysburg attended by state officers, Jaycees from other nearby communities and the leaders of other civic groups of Gettysburg.

"America has a great potential for young men," Herbert Morris, Wilkes-Barre, state president of the Junior Chamber, told an audience of 100 Jaycees and their guests. "There is a challenge today for the young man. It is an age of civic responsibility."

"I am impressed anew in coming to Gettysburg, as a college town, and historic site and cradle of democracy," Mr. Morris continued. I hope as we charter this new chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce that these 25 young men who are the charter members remain in Gettysburg."

"Age Of Conflicts"

Mr. Morris reviewed the years from 1916 to 1953, which is the span of life of the Junior Chamber, as "an age of uncertainty, an age of conflicts, with peaks of prosperity and depths of depression."

He spoke of World War II as a war fought for an ideology, and quoted President Eisenhower as saying that it was "a battle for the minds of men." He pointed out that the nation is now engaged in a "cold war," with implications that "it may embroil us in World War III."

"We have in this country," he said, "the highest national income in history, higher than we ever thought it would be. We have a vast potential of employment. We believe we are no longer bound by frontiers, and that we move in a highly competitive market."

"This is what we young men must see. We have leadership. Our creed is based on the fundamental rights of man. We have also in this year of 1953 an age of uncertainty. We have in this country a 'McCarthyism,' a breed of witch-hunters we cannot tolerate. We in this are defeating the very purpose we have been fighting for, as Eisenhower said, 'the minds of men.'"

"Age Of Opportunity"

"I think we young men should have a part in fighting this 'McCarthyism.' We think that we have some of the answers to the problems of our country. I think we can sum up in two words our greatest objective, leadership training. When we develop leadership we develop civic responsibility."

"This is an age of opportunity, and I think we see it as such. There is opportunity for every young man willing to make sacrifices.

BOOK PRINTED HERE USED ON 'VOICE' PROGRAM

A study on the Belgian school laws written by a Mount Saint Mary's College professor and printed here recently by The Times and News Publishing Co., is being used by the Voice of America to emphasize to Russian satellite nations the rights of the church to educate its followers without interference from the government.

The book, entitled "The Educational Rights of the Church and Elementary Schools in Belgium" was written by the Rev. Dr. Gommard DePauw, professor of moral theology at Mount Saint Mary's, as his doctoral thesis for Catholic University.

A Belgian scholar, who was captured by the Germans during the battle of Dunkirk and later escaped from a German War prisoner camp to continue his theological studies, Dr. DePauw holds degrees from the University of Louvain and the Catholic University of America.

Cambats Red Propaganda

Being stressed in the Voice of America broadcasts in Dr. DePauw's conclusion that "The Belgian school system stands in a world of frictions and conflicts of all kinds, as a living proof that school controversies among the citizens of the same nation can be avoided, and that an equitable solution for the school problems can be found in the harmonious coordination of the rights and duties, Church and State."

Used particularly to combat anti Catholic propaganda of the Reds in Communist dominated countries where much of the population is Catholic is Dr. DePauw's conclusion in his dissertation that "these people who maintain that Catholicism is finally aiming at the totalitarian imposition of its views upon all members of the nation should look into the Belgian elementary school system. There is a country where still the overwhelming majority of the citizens are members of the Catholic Church; where that Church can at present day rely on a favorable political majority in both houses of Parliament. Under such circumstances the Catholics insist on maintaining school legislation that actually does not give the Catholic Church any privileged status, but sanctions equality and freedom for all religious and philosophical convictions."

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frock, Wall St., will entertain at a dinner party Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Helman, Lansdale; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Frock and daughter, Esther, York, and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Frock and daughter, Mary, Uniontown, Md.

U. N. PREPARES TO CHALLENGE REDS ON PEACE

By OSGOOD CARUTHERS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States prepared today to again challenge Russia to prove recent Kremlin "peace talk" by showing effective cooperation in the U. N. toward disarmament.

Informed American sources said the U. S. delegation here found no satisfaction in the answer it got Thursday from Russia's Valerian A. Zorin to the initial challenge offered by Ambassador Ernest A. Gross.

Gross said he certainly would repeat the challenge—framed earlier this week after high-level consultations in Washington. He expressed hope Zorin would give some other reply than the mere charge that the American questions were "slandorous" and "artificial."

Both Zorin and Gross were scheduled to speak today—in that order—in the windup debate on disarmament in the 60-nation political committee.

Committee President Joao Carlos Muniz said he hoped the special Saturday morning meeting would finish work on disarmament so the body could go on next week with other world problems on its agenda.

The next item to be taken up is a charge by Czechoslovakia that the United States, through its Mutual Security Act, is sending spies into Communist territory and interfering in the internal affairs of the Eastern countries.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The moral to this tale is: Don't take off your coat at a rummage sale. That's what Mrs. Bernice Leonard did. She hung her $60 garment on a rack while she helped serve bargain hunters. When the sale was over she couldn't find the coat, and reported it stolen.

Police said they'd keep an eye out for it, but expressed the opinion it was probably sold by some overzealous clerk.

CAN NOW SEE EYE CANCER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A phosphorus isotope can "see" otherwise hidden eye cancer, a meeting of eye specialists was told yesterday. Dr. Jack Eisenberg announced the development at the Fifth Annual Clinical Conference at Wills Eye Hospital. Dr. Eisenberg is a member of the hospital staff.

The radioactive phosphorus isotope is known as P 32 and was credited by Dr. Eisenberg with proving a tremendous aid to diagnosticians.

"Heretofore," he said, "the only absolute method by which eye doctors could be sure that a tumor had formed behind the eye, was to take the eye out. The knowledge that radioactive phosphorus will determine whether or not cancers are present within the eye will help the doctor who has had to rely mainly on his clinical judgment for diagnosis."

ZAPOTOCKY TO BE NEXT "RED" HEAD OF CZEKS

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Czech Parliament unanimously elected Prime Minister Antonin Zapotocky, 68, the new president of Czechoslovakia today. He succeeds Klement Gottwald, the powerful Communist boss who died a week ago today.

All 271 members of parliament present voted for Zapotocky, one-time boss of the nation's trade unions, Prague Radio said.

There was no immediate hint as to who would succeed Zapotocky as prime minister, a post he had held since June, 1948. He succeeded Gottwald in that job also, when Gottwald became president.

Zapotocky had been considered the most likely choice to succeed Gottwald. A former stonecutter who was born at Zakolny near Kladno in Bohemia, on Dec. 19, 1884, Zapotocky obtained only elementary school education. He early followed in the footsteps of his father, a tailor, who was a founder of the Czech Social Democratic Party.

Was Red Deputy
After service in the Austro-Hungarian Army in World War I, Zapotocky became a co-founder of the Communist Party in 1921 and was a Communist deputy in the Czech Republic's new parliament.

The Nazis arrested him and threw him into a concentration camp when they took over Czechoslovakia in 1939. In camp he became a trustee, and was charged with responsibility for the death of a number of Dutch inmates of the camp. As a result the Dutch government three times sought his extradition on war crimes charges in 1947. But the Czech government of the then president, Eduard Benes, refused the requests. Gottwald at the time was premier.

The new president became best known as the secretary of Czechoslovakia's Communist Trade Union Federation, a position which he got in 1929 and kept until 1950 except for the period of his imprisonment.

Freed from the Nazis in 1945 by the Red Army, Zapotocky plunged into Czech politics and was one of the main agents of the bloodless coup by which Gottwald forced Benes to appoint an all-Communist government in February, 1948. Zapotocky's "action committees" formed in the factories were a vital card in Gottwald's hand by which he threatened Benes with nationwide disorder.

Zapotocky was appointed deputy premier by Gottwald. In June, 1948, when Gottwald was elected president, Zapotocky succeeded him as premier. Zapotocky is married has a daughter whose husband, O. Kaiser, was minister to Mexico from 1948 until 1952 when he was transferred to Rome.

In the early years after the war Zapotocky was known as a member of the moderate wing of the Communist party. In recent months however, he has become more radical.

HEART STOPS 50 MINUTES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—For nearly an hour surgeons massaged and medically stimulated a heart that had stopped functioning during an operation—saving the life of their 30-year-old patient who is now recovering and in good condition.

Dr. Charles P. Bailey and Dr. Houck Bolton were performing a three-stage operation on Mrs. Rose Gale, of Bayonne, N. J., at Doctor's Hospital. They had opened two of the three valves which they previously diagnosed as being plugged as a result of the rheumatic condition.

As they started to work on the third valve, Mrs. Gale's heart slowed and finally stopped. Immediately the surgeons massaged the heart in an effort to restore its natural rhythm. At the same time they injected drugs into the muscles.

When the heart fluttered and then refused to perform the job of pumping blood through the veins continued the artificial stimulation for 50 minutes. Finally the operation was completed and the heart resumed its normal function.

Down 5 MIGs And Damage 7 Others In Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Allied Sabre jets today shot down five Communist MIGs and damaged seven others in the skies over North Korea.

Two American pilots downed their 10th MIGs and became double aces during the furious air battles.

Capt. Manuel Fernandez Jr. of Miami, Fla., and Capt. Harold E. Fischer Jr. of Sweta City, Iowa, each raised his MIG destruction score to 10, the Fifth Air Force said.

Fernandez shot down two MIGs this afternoon while Fischer shot down one.

On the ground, there were only sporadic clashes between mud-caked soldiers as steady rain soaked the 155-mile battlefield until near dawn.

Allied fighter bombers sliced through clearing skies to strafe and bomb the Communist front and just behind the Red lines.

Twenty American Superforts blasted Red troop and supply centers in North Korea during darkness.

The Fifth Air Force announced today that last week's air battles resulted in five MIGs downed, one probably and two more damaged in sky battles that caught no Sabre jets. However, Red ground gunners downed two Thunderjets during the week and two more Thunderjets and a propeller driven Marine Skyraider were lost to other causes.

SCHOOL BOARDS SPLIT ON BILL

Adams County school directors apparently are divided in their attitude toward a bill recently introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Francis Worley which would let local school districts decide whether directors should receive $5 expenses for attending each school board session.

Fairfield and York Springs Jointures have voted to endorse the bill but the Conewago (East Berlin) directors are opposed to it.

Other Worley bills relating to sportsmen have been getting general support. The Upper Adams Fish and Game Association at a meeting in Bendersville Thursday voted to back Worley bills 78 and 79. One measure would close the season on doe until 1955 and the other would keep open non-stocked streams to fishermen during the 30-day period before the opening of the trout season. The Littlestown Fish and Game Association also have voted approval of the two bills and are working for their passage.

IKE REJECTS BIG BOOST IN MILITARY FUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration apparently has turned thumbs down on proposals for a sizeable increase in former President Truman's $46,296,000,000 military spending program.

Informed members of Congress interpreted Secretary of Defense Wilson's statement yesterday — that there will be no boost in the Truman defense budget — as ruling out recommendations left on President Eisenhower's desk when Truman quit the White House.

As described by the legislators, these recommendations involved a several billion dollar boost in defense spending in the two years beginning July 1. Their disclosure recently to a group of congressional White House visitors caused some leaders to comment publicly at the time that the military picture was "grim."

The National Security Council is reported to have approved the proposed additions, but Truman was said to have taken no action on them in his final days in office, leaving the decision to Eisenhower.

Lawmakers said it was their understanding the added money would be used to rescind stretch-out orders in particularly critical items, such as the new B52 jet bombers.

Wilson did not discuss these recommendations at his news conference yesterday nor did he view the military picture as particularly grim.

Sees Savings
Wilson said he believes reductions can be made in manpower and spending without weakening combat strength. He forecast a reduction by July 1 of the 3½ million persons now in uniform.

Eisenhower has said in the past that the best defense force may not necessarily be the largest. The President told his news conference Thursday that the nation can't afford to reduce its combat strength, but savings could be made in administrative costs.

Wilson disclosed that the monthly rate of defense spending had been frozen at the January level of nearly four billion dollars, adding that he hopes the rate will not go up. He said also he hopes draft calls, now running about 53,000 a month, can be reduced.

2 4-H Members To Grow Tomatoes

Much interest is reported among 4-H Club members in an offer by the C. H. Musselman Company, of Biglerville, to enroll 4-H members as tomato growers, furnish plants, provide commercial spray services and provide a market for their tomatoes at regular prices subject to Federal-State inspection as with adult growers. Growers do their own cultivation and planting.

The only restriction is that a minimum of one acre of land must be available for the project. Local yields average up to 21 tons per acre with an average of eight tons. At last year's prices eight tons in average grading would run between $200 and $300 per acre.

The first enrollments were received from Robert Showers, son of Grayson Showers, and James Kuhn, son of Waldo Kuhn, Aspers R. 1.

the son of Harry J. Roland.

Jacque L. Hoffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hoffman, and a senior at the local high school, has been out of school for a few days as the result of a serious injury to his left arm sustained while participating in athletics at the high school. X-rays were taken to determine the extent of the injury and his arm has been placed in a cast.

Richard C. Herman has returned from Europe where he served with the army for some time, and is now with his wife, formerly Miss Sylvia Billeit, and their infant daughter, at her parental home north of town.

Miss Elaine Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Spangler, Philadelphia, who formerly resided between East Berlin and Dover, was among student nurses at St. Mary's Hospital Nursing School, Philadelphia, to receive their caps at recent ceremonies. Miss Spangler was graduated last year from Dover High School. Her sister, Miss Joan Spangler, who has been studying art at a Washington, D. C. school, was previously graduated from East Berlin High School.

Conrad, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad F. Bless, has returned to the primary department of the borough school after several months' absence due to illness.

In New Zealand when a motorist is hit by a train at a grade crossing he is in trouble with the law. Such an accident is sufficient evidence of his carelessness in failing to keep a sharp lookout for trains at a known danger point. In addition, if a motorist dashes across the tracks ahead of a train after the crossing warning whistle has blown he may be prosecuted if the engineer can obtain his license number.

Likewise, a n y livestock killed along the right of way or at a grade crossing are not paid for by the railroad. Instead, the owner of the stock is liable for any damage to the train caused by his property. In the absence of damage to the railway's property the owner, if known, is billed for the cost of burying the carcass!

The citizens of a small town in Lamb County, Tex., once tried to persuade the builders of a new railroad, the Texas and Pacific, to plan the route to pass through their town. The railroad ignored the pleas. When it became evident that their efforts had failed, the citizens held another meeting and decided to move the whole earth — homes, stores, school, church and every citizen's personal belongings — five miles away to a new site. And that's how Earth, Tex., enjoys the facilities of a railroad today. Someone in that town must Mohammed and the mountain!

In Tibet porters express their thanks for a tip by sticking out their tongues, hissing, and touching their heads to the ground!

Smoking was not permitted on trains in England until December of 1867, and the ban was not the mere whim of company rule. It was prohibited by law. However, Viscount Ranelagh thought the law nonsense and persisted in smoking his pipe whenever riding a train. He was arrested and fined, but the publicity given his trial caused so much public debate on the question that a bill was introduced into Parliament to repeal the anti-smoking act. A stiff political fight developed over the bill, but when the final vote was counted it had won by a small margin.

APPRECIATION

DUKE, our Scotch Collie Pet, has been found in unharmed condition. The railway station at Trivandrum, India, is three and one-half miles away from the town. This is somewhat unusual for the capital city of a native state. The reason for the unusual location was the whim of a maharajah, who did not wish to profane his sandals by crossing the rails when going to his daily bath!

Chestnut Trees May Make Comeback

CROCKETT, Tex. (AP) — Chestnut trees, once the best saw timber in the nation, may make a comeback. Chestnut trees have been virtually extinct in the United States since a blight 30 years ago killed off many chestnut forests. The trees produce a good hardwood.

An experimental planting of blight-resistant Chinese chestnut trees will be made in Davy Crockett National Forest. Forest Ranger Orrie W. Hanson says this will be the first chestnut planting in Texas and, he believes, the first in the United States since the blight.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

TEN YEARS AGO
Oyer Takes Postmaster's Position
Room: Lawrence E. Oyer has been appointed acting postmaster at the Gettysburg post office and will assume his new duties as soon as the postal inspector comes here to supervise the official check-up of the post office accounts. This is considered a routine matter.

Appointment of Mr. Oyer as the acting postmaster followed Mr. Williams' sudden death early Monday morning.

High Dribblers Nosed out 24-21 in Last Minutes: A stubborn, determined, hard-fighting Gettysburg high school basketball team, out-matched in experience, but never excelled for pluck and courage, fought valiantly but in vain against the power-house men of Hazleton high Tuesday night and for the third successive year lost an inter-district cage battle. The final tally was 24 for Hazleton, 21 for Gettysburg.

It was a dog-fight the whole way. Hazleton trailed from the opening gun to the middle of the fourth period. They had been top-favorites of practically every cage follower and high ranking dopsters had picked them to win easily. It was anything but easy.

Stalwarts for the Maroons were Bud Boehner and Bobby March who tallied 16 points between them. Ross Sachs failed to break into the scoring, but was his usual cool self in setting up the Maroons' attack. . . . Don Wickerham was a steady performer throughout. . . .

WAAC Recruiter Is Transferred to York: Private Mahlon P. Hartzell Jr., who has been in charge of WAAC recruiting in Adams County since January 4, has been ordered to York on a permanent assignment in the WAAC recruiting office there. He relieved Corporal Wagner.

During Hartzell's tour of duty here, he enrolled 10 WAAC's which filled almost half of the 21 WAAC quota for this county.

County Couple Weds Friday: Miss Elizabeth Wellington Reindollar, daughter of Mrs. Robert S. Reindollar, Fairfield, and Charles Leslie Lott, son of Mrs. Laura B. Lott, Gettysburg R. 2, were united in marriage at 8 o'clock Friday evening in Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Emmert G. Colestock, assisted by the Rev. Frederick L. Fritsch.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, John J. Reindollar. Mrs. John J. Reindollar acted as the matron of honor.

Miss Elizabeth Lott and Miss Iona McGlaughlin acted as bridesmaids. The bridegroom had for his best man William Scott, and for ushers Dean Stover and Calvin Bream.

Miss Helen McClellan was at the organ and Miss Mildred Naugle sang several selections.

Mr. and Mrs. Lott will reside at Knoxlyn where Mr. Lott is engaged in farming.

Foulk Farm Sold: Walter F. Foulk has sold his 97-acre farm, stock and equipment three miles north of Gettysburg to Mrs. Amelia Wolf, Aberdeen, Washington. The sale was made through C. A. Heiges.

A PLEA
Let me remember through the day To play the friend whenever I may. Let me glad that I can bear My portion of life's round of care. Let me in honor earn the right To rest in sweet content at night.

Let me remember, where I go, To make no honest man my foe. Let me pass on, nor leave behind For those who follow me to find One sign of hatred or of shame To scar my labor or my name.

Keep me from envy free, I pray, Of all who tread a smoother way. Teach me to use what I possess Of gold and joy and happiness Without one discontented sigh That other men have more than I.

Let me remember that I may Perform some needed task today; May, with the little I possess, Brighten the life of one with less, And through this day of joy and strife Be worthy of the gift of life.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WONDER CREATION
Each year my amazement at the working of the human body grows. Lastly of all, God created man because He wanted to make this His masterpiece. And so it is that we are placed in a wonder world with a wonder body. This body is so accurately and perfectly constructed that it lasts longer than any man-made machine, as a rule.

This body of ours is very rugged. When trained and physically developed, it will stand punishment of the severest sort, and be none the worse for it. Take the football, baseball, tennis player or hockey expert. Each puts the human body to a test such as it is rarely given in life. I listened to the talk of an old time wrestling champion recently and he said in no other form of sport did a man have to be so efficient and physically balanced.

The human body thrives on work, but grows weak through inactivity. Exercise is essential to its wellbeing. It is the mind of man, however, that emphasizes the wonder of the human creation. None other has what man has — a conscience and a soul! And his creative ability has been of the most astounding character. I stand before any one of our great machines and it fills me with wonder and I take added pride in what man has been able to achieve.

I still wonder over the human voice being carried for thousands of miles over the air, or on wires, and as to television, I bow to man's genius for he has only begun many of his greatest achievements. The automobile, five years from now, will probably be one that will make the present ones look antique — so anxious is man to excel beyond his dreams.

Take the reason of man, and his experiments with instruments that reveal objects in the night sky about which we have only dreamed. The human body lives longer than ever before, thanks to man's discoveries of those things that smother his healthy life. Each one of us is truly a wonder creation, marvelously endowed. Gladly render our gratitude to God, our Creator, for all that we enjoy, for no matter what our sorrows and disappointments, blessings are ever about us.

Chesterman Committee Will Carry $100 Million Economy Campaign Directly To People

By LEONARD A. UNGER
HARRISBURG (AP)—The Chesterman Committee will go directly to the people to sell the idea of accomplishing 100 million dollars in long range economies in state government operations.

Executive Director John N. O'Neil disclosed today $5,000 is being spent to print 10,000 copies of the economy report for general distribution throughout Pennsylvania. "Let the people talk to their legislators about the report to see what should be done about it," O'Neil told a newsman.

The committee official said the report should be accepted as a whole since it calls for wholesale reorganization of state government agencies to achieve the 100 million dollars in savings by 1960.

There was a question as to how the legislature will react to the committee's plan to distribute the report generally.

Can Achieve Slash
Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland) and Sen. John M. Walker (R-Allegheny) both have said it would be impossible to achieve the committee's economy estimate.

A 30-man legislative committee which aired three various phases of the report abandoned further hearings on the grounds that nothing useful could be accomplished without the presence of Chesterman Committee members. The Chesterman group refused to attend the hearings.

As it stands now, bills to carry out the Chesterman recommendations will be introduced in the Legislature and take their chance on passage without any backing of the legislative committee.

The Chesterman Committee received an appropriation of $60,000 from Gov. John S. Fine last May to carry out its study. Expenses as of the end of February totaled $39,923.

Semed Without Pay
The seven members of the committee served without salary. A check of the committee's accounts in the auditor general's department showed it received about $2,875 in expenses for travel and meals.

The biggest single outlay was $18,708 for salaries to O'Neil as executive director at $1,250 a month, and two assistants who between them received about $1,100 a month.

Wages for stenographic help totaled $1,736. The second biggest item went for fees by research groups. Clarence E. Ackley, Harrisburg education expert, received $5,000 for a study of the Public Instruction Department.

A similar amount was paid to the Institute of Local and State Government of the University of Pennsylvania for a survey of state personnel problems.

Others Are Paid
S. R. Collins, Lewistown engineer, was paid $1,450 for his services in looking into the operations of the Highways Department.

Associated Advertisers, a Harrisburg public relations firm, received $1,500 for issuing publicity releases on various aspects of the Chesterman report.

Dr. H. F. Alderfer, State College, municipal government expert was paid $1,525 for serving as an editorial consultant. A fee of $200 was given to Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president emeritus of Gettysburg College, for his services in reviewing costs of higher education in Pennsylvania.

The promise was made by Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov and announced last night by the British Foreign Office. Although the Foreign Office warned against premature optimism, the Soviet move followed two other developments that foreign diplomats in Moscow said could have a profound impact on world peace. These were:

Two Developments
1. The proposal by Gen. Vassily Chuekov, Soviet commander in Germany, for British-Russian talks to avoid future East-West air incidents. The Russian general surprised the West by expressing regret over the death of seven British airmen in a Lincoln bomber shot down by Soviet MIGs over the Iron Curtain.

2. President Eisenhower's statement last Thursday that the U. S. always would go half way toward any Soviet attempt to settle world issues.

The Soviet promise of action in the case of nine British civilians and one Irish missionary held in North Korea seemed of special significance. Previous British appeals on behalf of the group were ignored by the late Prime Minister Stalin's Kremlin regime.

Promise In Note
The Foreign Office said the promise was made in a note delivered here Wednesday that declared:

"The Soviet Foreign Ministry will take up the matter with the Korean People's Democratic Republic and will also take the necessary steps in order that this question may find an affirmative solution."

The British group includes three diplomats, among them, Vyvian Holt, former British minister in Seoul.

Pines Pay Off On Worn Out Cropland
RALEIGH (AP)—Worn-out cropland on the Baird farm in Huntersville was planted to loblolly pines in 1935 with the help of CCC crews.

Now Baird's pine is ready for its first thinning. Baird is planning to thin two or three acres this year and the same amount each year. Part of the wood will be cut into seven-foot fence posts for sale to a pressure treating plant near Charlotte. The rest will go to a pulpwood dealer.

From now on, says John L. Gray, in charge of forestry for the State College Extension Service, the farm will bring in a steady cash income.

General Cash Is Name, Not Title
PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—Pvt. Raymond N. Cash, 17, the son of General Hubert Cash, was assigned to a recruit platoon here. The recruit was asked what branch of the service his father had been in.

"None," he answered. "General is his first name." The young Leatherneck said his father frequently carried a stir in banks when he tried to cash checks made out to "General Cash."

Either Old Forge or Johnstown can win the favored roles by defeating Allentown or Sharon in tonight's contests. They will fill out the semi-final bracket in the race for the state's number one basketball prize.

Allentown (Dist. 11), 23-3, vs. Old Forge (Dist. 2), 27-4, at Philadelphia.

Sharon (Dist. 7), 24-3, vs. Johnstown (Dist. 6), 27-1, at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh Westinghouse (Dist. 8), 17-5, vs. Meadville (Dist. 10), 20-4, at New Wilmington.

Two Draw Bytes

Allentown and Sharon both qualified for quarter-final play by drawing initial round bytes.

In Class B competition last night three favored schools rolled to impressive one-sided victories in semi-final regional games.

Ashley (Dist. 2) smashed Montoursville to the tune of 78-51, at Kingston. Also winning by more than 20 points was Irwin (Dist. 7) in a victory over Cresson, 68-47 at McKeesport.

In Allentown, meanwhile, Darby (Dist. 1) out-gunned Kutztown (Dist. 3) 58-45 to qualify for final regional play.

Eastern and Western regional finals are slated for next Tuesday. The Western game between Irwin and Mercer will be in New Wilmington, while a site has yet to be selected for the Eastern playoff.

Get Seventh Chance

The Allentown Canaries are making their seventh appearance in the Class A championship play. Only once, in 1950, did Allentown win the district crown and fail to make it all the way. However, two titles, in 1946 and 1947, were taken away.

Sharon, victor of the WPIAL (Dist. 7) for the first time, is making its eighth tournament try (four as District 8 winner and three more in District 10) and has come out on top once, in 1930.

Coach J. Milo Sowards started the season at Allentown with a squad that included six lettermen. Frank Reinhart at 6 foot 4 is the top rebounder and Capt. Dale Smith and Mel Geho, a driving forward, lead the scorers.

Old Forge is spearheaded by its all-state candidate, Marty Farrell, a 6 foot 6 center with tremendous shooting ability. He made 28 points as the Lackawanna Countians rolled over a highly-regarded District 4 champ, Coal Twp., Tuesday.

Has 11-Game Streak

The top Western game puts it squarely up to Sharon to reverse an early season result. Johnstown, riding an 11-game winning streak, handed Sharon one of three defeats, 58-49, in an invitational tournament.

Sharon is the team that beat out Farrell, 1952 state champ, in section three of the WPIAL, thus preventing the Steelers from defending their title. And, having followed the Steelers to the WPIAL championship, the Tigers are out to go all the way.

As for Johnstown, beaten only once all year—and that by a club it defeated twice—the Trojans are aiming to become the first district 6 team ever to cop the state title.

With all starters above six feet, and a point per game average of over 55, they're the best at Johnstown in years.

The only two 1952 District champs to make it again this year, Pittsburgh Westinghouse and Meadville, square off against each other in the other quarter-final. Last year in an inter-district first rounder, Westinghouse came out on top, 58-33.

covered the area from the forest fires in the south last summer doubled the number of forest fires in the state and the area burned over. Last year there were 1650 fires burning 66,000 acres, as compared to 1,000 fires per year over the previous five years with an average of 33,000 acres per year burned.

Caught Six "Fire Bugs"

That the extremely dry period, plus the complication made by the smoke, passed without more serious conflagrations in the state's forests was due to the efficient efforts of the wardens, plus state police, and others who cooperated, including the students at the State College Forestry schools at Mont Alto and State College, Roland said.

Acreage burned over was higher than usual because during the smoke period fire watchers in the towers in the forests often could not see fires and had to wait until night disclosed the glow of flames. He praised state police who "cleaned up six more spots for us" by putting as many "fire bugs" into jail. Police patrols were maintained through the forests at the worst of the dry, smoky period and during that period the six were caught setting fires.

Billy Gilliam And Johnson Mix Tonight

TOLEDO (P)—Tough Billy Gilliam battles Harold Johnson tonight in a light heavyweight fight to be telecast over the ABC network at 9 p. m. (EST) from the Sports Arena.

Johnson, 24, from Philadelphia, is a 9-5 favorite over Gilliam, a rugged mixer who shows little suaveness. He will outweight Johnson, 210 pounds to 177, and his reach will extend four inches more.

But the Orange, N. J., fighter has only a fair record with 22 victories, 13 losses and two draws. Judges here score on a point basis, with 10 being split for each round by the referee and two judges. Each fighter gets five points for even rounds.

BRATTON KO'S BOBBY JONES IN 5 ROUNDS

NEW YORK (P)—Johnny Bratton is hoiering again for a title shot with welterweight champion Kid Gavilan after polishing off middleweight Bobby Jones in five rounds.

"That's enough middleweights for now," said the hard hitting Chicago welter contender. "I want Gavilan and my manager Hymire Wallman has a $10,000 check made out to the Damon Runyon Cancer Fund if Gavilan will fight me. How long is he going to duck me?"

It took the 149-pound Bratton four rounds to warm up against Jones, a 152-pounder out of Oakland, Calif., but when he did he sizzled. Two rights to the jaw dazed the former California middleweight champion and a flashing right and left to the chin dropped Jones for the count at 2:52 of the fifth of the Madison Square Garden ten rounds.

Jones, a 17 to 5 underdog, had the slim crowd of 4,275 (gross take $12,975) anticipating another upset when he won three of the first four rounds of the nationally telecast and broadcast bout.

Bratton won the third when he caught Bobby with a right to the jaw just before the bell. In the fourth, Jones, nowhere in Bratton's class as a puncher, slugged it out with Johnny. Although he won the round, that set him up for the kayo.

NEWCOMERS IN TOURNEY LEAD

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (P)—Two young golfers who are in the habit of collecting their tournament winnings near the bottom of the prize list—if at all—are pace setters going into today's second round of the Jacksonville Open and aiming at the $2,000 top money.

Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., shot 33-32—65 Friday, grabbing the lead with an eagle duce on the last hole. He had six birdies, but lost a stroke by three-putting the sixth green. His 65 equalled the course record.

Jay Hebert of Erie, Pa., shot 33-33—66 for second place with 12 pars and six birdies.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., and Art Doering of Cincinnati shot 67 each to tie for third place. Some of the names you'd expect to see among the leaders began to turn up among the seven players at 68. Lew Worsham, former National Open champion from Oakmont, Pa., and Jim Turnesa, National PGA champ from Briarcliff, N. Y., were among them.

Favored at 3 to 1 to capture the top prize of $91,000 were Bruse S. Campbell's Ram O' War and Joe W. Brown's Matagorda. Post time for the big race was set for 4:50 p. m. (EST).

NEW PURGE IN

presenting to the public Malenkov as that successor.

"Increased terrorism in Soviet domestic policy is an alarm signal. The accusation against the nine physicians repeats the pattern of the purge which followed the assassination of Kirov in 1934, a purge which ended with the 'liquidation' of the 'old guard'."

The stage seems to have been set for a major purge even before the new leadership has fully established itself. To the outside world it may mean either withdrawal or sudden aggressive moves. In any case it signals crisis.

"The situation after Stalin's death is distinctly different from the situation after the death of Lenin, in 1924," Dr. Langerhans pointed out. "It took Stalin fourteen years of bloody purges, 1924 to 1938, to establish his leadership in the party and over the country. This time the factional struggle for succession preceded the event."

"It is difficult to die a natural death in communist countries; and if you succeed, no one will believe you."

24 ARE KILLED BY HUNTERS

HARRISBURG (P)—Hunters' gunfire killed 24 persons during game seasons last year and wounded another 362 to record a casualty total equal to 1951.

The state Game Commission in releasing the figures yesterday said the fatality total, however, was one below the previous year. The commission added that the majority of victims and shooters was over 21 years old.

At the same time the commission reported a total state deer kill of 64,993—a drop from the previous year's total of 72,582. Both antlerless and antlered kills were included in the total.

Also falling off was the bear kill of 261, which was 168 below the 1951 total.

The number of rabbits taken by hunters remained well over 1,225,000.

The commission said the total kill of all game animals was 2,925,687. The total kill in 1951 was 2,764,750.

More Than Psychology

Several times before we have discussed the effect of backpressure on engine power. Here is a little more information on the subject:

Engineers recognize what are known as gaseous pistons. These are pressure waves which assist the exhaust gases in clearing the engine's exhaust manifold. If you take off the exhaust pipe the engine will actually lose power because the gases cannot exit as efficiently as they should.

This will also explain why if the muffler has sprung a leak the engine doesn't perform quite as well. Naturally the tendency is to assume that this is psychological and that we merely think the engine doesn't do as well because we are annoyed at the increased noise and the mixed up effect of the exhaust system.

Worth Looking Into

Some things likely to be overlooked in the 1953 cars, unless you have been checking well below the surface, include the skid-plate to protect the mechanical front-end, a new position for the stoplight switch so that it is better protected.

ted from road splash, doors that will hold open in either of two positions, a return to the straight-through muffler, and a carburetor bowl suspended over the throttle valve.

Care With Diagnosis

As every mechanic knows it is always important to recheck first impressions when considering car trouble, otherwise it is too easy to jump at wrong conclusions. Backfiring through the carburetor when the engine is reluctantly starting may seem to indicate a lean mixture from under-choking, but the same effect is had if there is a sticky intake valve. It wouldn't be an exhaust valve because failure of one of these to close tightly simply provides a skip.

Every now and again someone writes me to ask if it would be all right to carry the tires at higher pressure. Their reluctance to do so stems from some advice which they usually find in the car maker's instruction manual. Usually the manufacturer recommends pressures lower than does the tire maker. Naturally he is thinking in terms of an easier ride and longer life for the car rather than longer life for the tires. He has some good reason for this because after all is said and done tires are less expensive than car repairs.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"When water leaks out of the cooling system, internally, many a car owner is mystified because other than a leaky head gasket he doesn't see just how the water could get into the cylinders. Actually there are seven other ways in which this can happen.

"There may, for instance, be a cracked block in the valve chamber, or leakage around the distributor hole in the cylinder block. Sand holes offer another possibility. Then there is the leakage that may develop around loose cylinder head bolts. A warped cylinder head or a cracked cylinder wall will provide leakage opportunity, not to mention trouble that can develop around a cracked valve port."

It is always a good plan to have extra oil for your car in the garage and to check the engine's needs before starting out. In this way you are sure of the quality and grade of oil, and you put in only what's needed. Overfilling the crankcase may result in foaming of the oil, and the air can be troublesome in the lines as well as in hydraulic valve lifters.

Leave Them Up

If your car is equipped with automatic window control and you are leaving the car on a public parking lot, it seems to me that the better plan is to leave the windows up. Drivers at such lots usually do not lower the windows when backing into a space, preferring to hold the door on their side slightly open. It gives them a better rearward view. Since they invariably leave the car with the windows up, just in case of up will obviate the necessity for their operating them.

I think this goes for hand-operated windows, too, if there is some trouble with the window regulator and you have to use a pet trick to get the glass up or down without binding.

tank it is usually necessary to remove the back of the rear seat. Since air bubbles in the fluid will cause noisy top operation it is necessary to operate the top lever after having filled the tank to within two inches of its top. During this bleeding operation cover the tank with a clean cloth so that fluid will not splash out. When the air bubbles are out the system is "bled." Naturally, if air comes out of the fluid more fluid will need to be added as the final step before replacing the cover. And as with an oil filter make sure that the cover seal is in proper position and the cover securely installed.

No End In Sight

One of the pleasant bits of mail reaching me of late is a letter from the owner of a 1912 car. He uses it for going back and forth to work, and is interested in using lighter pistons so that the engine's top rpm can be accelerated a bit. The job has a 24 volt battery with double wiring, which will probably surprise some of the folk who are so excited about this year's return to the 12-volt system. My reader has owned the particular car since 1920 and has never changed the spark plugs!

What, No Water?

This year's automobiles have everything from crash padding to individual ventilator controls and air conditioning but a lot of shop-ers are still wondering why it still is impossible to have a drink of water in the car when traveling. Sure, you can take along a vacuum bottle to quench the kiddies' thirst on one of those long hot trips, but why can't we have something modern? Suppose we had to carry gasoline in the luggage compartment.

Many people in traveling have occasion to take medicine, vitamins or perhaps a bit of food that goes down better with the aid of a little water. So why not a compartment on the dash where water can be carried and conveniently poured into a drinking cup as needed? Designed like a vacuum bottle it would keep water cold for several hours.

Q. Is there a fuse for the over-drive? K. L. N.

A. Yes, but its location varies in different cars. You may find it on the firewall, or on the safety switch or on the side of the over-drive relay.

Q. I recently lost the pressure type radiator cap for my car. Is it all right to use a plain cap which I found in the garage? R. F.

A. Just temporarily. Better get a new pressure cap as soon as possible.

Q. I'm told that the universal joints on my car do not require any attention until they wear out and have to be replaced? L. D. McB.

A. Is that so? Well, it so happens that the universals on your car should be disassembled, cleaned and repacked with heavy fibre universal joint grease every 20,000 miles.

Q. The gas gauge read very slowly when I switched on the ignition this morning. Usually its pointer goes right up the proper reading. I keep the tank as full as possible at all times to check condensation. R. R. F.

A. Good for you! That action of the gauge indicates that the battery is very weak. You were lucky to get started at all.

Q. What is the best position of the throttle for cold motor starting? L. G. H. Jr.

A. One-third open throttle is a good rule. Use this for both cold and hot motor starting, but be careful when re-starting a hot motor not to pump on the accelerator pedal. If you have reason to believe that the re-start will be troublesome, open the throttle wide while you crank. Just go down very slowly on the accelerator pedal.

Q. What is the correct name for those coil springs which are used on tire chains to hold them snug. I recently asked for these and they did not seem to know what I meant. Wm. D. A.

A. These are known in the trade as tire chain adjusters.

Q. Do speedometer cables have provision for lubrication without taking them apart? M. M. C.

A. Usually no. However, there are exceptions. On your car there is an oil pipe on the housing above the cable flange. Two or three drops of No. 10 oil should be used here every 10,000 miles.

Q. There is a peculiar drumming noise in my car. Sometimes it sounds more like a rumble. Front wheel bearings have been checked. The engine itself doesn't seem to be involved in this. R. M. C.

A. I think this is due to uneven wear on the right front tire.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

VOTE HOOSIERS TITLE OF NO. 1 COLLEGE TEAM

NEW YORK (AP) — Indiana University's Hoosiers, champions of the NCAA, capped their most successful season in more than a decade by being named the No. 1 college team of the nation.

In the Associated Press' 14th and final weekly poll, the Hoosiers compiled 1,476 points from the 159 ballots sent in by sports writers and sportscasters.

They were named first on 128 ballots to outdistance Seton Hall, winner of the National Invitation Tournament, and the University of Kansas, which bowed to Indiana by one point, 69-68, in the finals of the NCAA.

Seton Hall, Kansas Next Seton Hall, with 27 first place votes, received 1,357 points and Kansas, 1,212, on the basis of 10 points for first, nine for second, etc.

Washington, third place winner in the NCAA, was the only other team to receive more than 1,000 points. The Huskies picked up 1,041.

The first 10 in order was completed by Louisiana State, defeated by Washington for third place in the NCAA; LaSalle, leader the first two weeks of the season; St. John's of Brooklyn, runner-up in the NIT; Oklahoma A&M; Duquesne and Notre Dame. In addition to Indiana and Seton Hall, LaSalle was the only team to receive first place votes. Four voters put the Philadelphia Explorers on top.

STYLES FAVOR THE TALL GIRL

Time was, and not so long ago either, when women 5 feet 8 inches and over were idealized in song and fiction but made to feel like Gulliver among the Lilliputians when they entered a clothing store. They either had to have their clothes made to order, or pay for extensive alterations on the few ready-made fashions they were able to find.

Now that the skyscraper set constitutes a full 10 percent of the total female population, stores and manufacturers are beginning to realize that a new size-range is called for, especially proportioned for "talls." Several stores have opened up complete departments for fashions which stock everything from bathing suits to sweaters. And an even larger percentage of stores is now carrying suits and dresses fashioned to flatter the tall figure, in the regular suit and dress departments.

In Newer Fabrics Tall girls, long dependent on separates for the bulk of their wardrobes, will welcome dresses styled with additional length in waistline, sleeves and other essential points of fit. Many of these new clothes are of easy-on-the-pocketbook man-made fibers such as rayon, orlon,

Fashion takes a bow in the direction of the tall gal this spring, offering her a wide range of the popular fleecy, nubby and delicately surfaced finishes for her new spring coat. On the left, an angora-like wool top; in the middle, a slim boucle coat, and on the right, a two-tone boucle with solid skirt and jacket-trim. All from A. Davis Tall Miss.

Train Home Guards To Meet Attacks

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The Jordan government has stepped up its home guard training program to meet Jewish attacks on its villages facing Israel.

Every able-bodied male between 18 and 40 must take a 12-week intensive training program under the eyes of the Arab Legion — acknowledged to be the best military force in the Arab world.

The training program was started two years ago but during the recent weeks there has been a flood of applications for training. Jordanians, many of them Palestinians driven from their homes by the Jews, have to wait their turn to get the training.

Spending Becomes More Complicated

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Even spending money is more of a problem than in the good old days, according to Ida C. Hagman, home economist at the University of Kentucky.

A century ago, the average person had about 72 "wants," of which 16 were considered absolute necessities. Today economists say the average person has 484 "wants," of which 94 are considered actual needs.

Not more than 200 kinds of articles were available in stores to the average buyer 100 years ago, Miss Hagman said. She says today's buyer is faced with more than 32,000 articles from which to choose.

nylon, dacron and acrilan. Year-round suits which have long been a favorite in other size ranges are now designed for fashions in blends which simulate wool but know no season.

"Made to order" for tall girls is the long, slim line of this Spring's fashions. The straight, slender silhouette of the new suits and coats, the easy bloused backs of the newest dresses, and the dramatic dash of a colorful weskit, all add up to glamour for the "tall set."

Drama In Design

One manufacturer of tall fashions, who is 5 feet 10½ inches herself, reasons that no one can carry the unusual and dramatic as well as a person who is tall. Her line of cocktail and evening dresses, utilizing such flattering fabrics as supple rayon crepes, taffetas and shimmering satins, illustrates her point.

STRESS PRINTS FOR CHILDREN

The quaint, old-fashioned look in Spring fashions will influence children's wear from tots to teens, with emphasis on tiny, spaced prints, black accent and jet trim, and both muted and bright colors.

Wallpaper prints, which figure largely in fashion for Spring, look fresh and pretty with their tiny scattered motifs. With an air of the early American or Victorian era about them, they are usually in subdued, "old engraving" colors such as mauve, rose, subtle yellows and blues. Larger wallpaper prints find expression in bright, splashy colors, and mix-match stripes and prints.

Especially suited to the little girl are the sampler prints, with cross-stitch motifs scattered amid dainty cross-stitch or embroidered look flowers. And calico prints are seen with bright and white flowers on black grounds.

Black is a fashion accent that will be seen in all size ranges this Spring, made youthful with bright touches of color. Tiny black prints, black and white gingham checks and plaids, black ball fringe and jet buttons, as well as narrow braided and patent leather belts and applique trim look new and quaint on dresses, coats and suits.

Little aprons and collars of sheer organdy, old-fashioned weskits, embroidered fichus, and lots of white touches also bring back the Victorian look with a modern touch.

Crispy ribbonlike cron chips are delicious served with a tangy tomato juice cocktail. If there are any left, crush them, mix the crumbs with grated yellow cheese, and use as a topping for a Lenten casserole.

A plantation is seen in the background.

The 35 pf blue shows a likeness of Avicenna, ancient Arabian philosopher.
